Eighth Sunday after Pentecost

Ten Thirty O'Clock

“There is a time for every matter under heaven...”

What time is it for you?

Birthing	Dying
Planting	Harvesting
Ending	Healing
Breaking Down	Building Up
Weeping	Laughing
Mourning	Dancing
Throwing Away	Gathering
Embracing	Refraining
Seeking	Losing
Keeping	Discarding
Keeping Silence	Speaking Out
Loving	Peacemaking

* What other seasons of life could be added to this list?

*What time is it for you?

*How does it make you feel to know that we do not control these times and seasons?
